The strongest and most interesting program of the week is at Drenland to-night. This fact should insure the usual big audiences. The picture with the ocean scenes is the best of its kind ever shown in this city. The Indian picture is notable for its genuineness and dramatic plot.

"The Burning of Rome" at the Bijou is all that was expected. Some who saw it yesterday afternoon were so pleased with it that they came again in the evening to witness it. F. H. Rogers and company have in their show window to-day an ingenious device for advertising the famous Walk-Over shoe. On a large, flat-topped pedestal are piled many patterns of shoes, and in a natural, life-like way, the well known trademark, the Walk-Over man in a dress suit, is walking over each shoe, making an entire circle of the top. It is controlled by electric power and is attracting the attention of the passers-by.

"Tony" Giacchino has a novel display in his show window, which he invented and calls the greatest imitation of the Hudson-Fulton celebration that has been seen in the city. It consists of a tank filled with water, numerous craft of all sizes sailing about, and in the back are two of his 1910 steamship calendars, so arranged and governed by electricity that they appear to be making about fourteen knots an hour on a rough sea. A lighter Ferris wheel overlooks the whole and completes a very attractive attention-completing.

Ribbons

Pardon us for emphasizing on these Ribbons, for we do think that we can help you to about the best line for the money asked in Vermont.

Our 5c Ribbon, while selling at the smallest price, is not of that quality that this price usually represents. The quality is all silk and good.

10c and 15c Ribbons are of the same grade of silk, only wider. These are sold largely for Christmas work and come in delicate, as well as dark, colors.

Our 15c Ribbon is a regular 25c value, made of best silk, and has a weight that makes it stiff, and for hair ribbon is the best in the market. You won't buy any better.

Fancy Ribbons for hats or fancy work are on our center counter, and there are wide ones in new styles at 25c.

We are sending out some interesting garment news to those that are looking for Winter Suits or Coats.

The Daylight Store

For chapped hands and chapped faces there is nothing better than a beautiful preparation for the skin at 25c a bottle.

Almond and Rose Cream

Excellent for use after shaving.

Christmas Next

Our overstocked sale was a great success, helped us to unload lots of goods and satisfied a great many customers and while we sacrificed our profit we at the same time did ourselves lots of satisfactory advertising. Lots sold last week at cut prices are now back to old prices. This does not wholly relieve us from overstocked conditions so much so that our Christmas sales will be from marked down values. The following are goods that we consider below market prices.

Handkerchiefs

Here is where we come in hard. This season, in particular, as we have decided to make business, no matter what the conditions.

Our all pure Linen Handkerchief for ladies or children for 5c each.

Then we have for the little ones three Handkerchiefs in a fancy box, with a little book attached, and the whole lot—three Handkerchiefs, box and book—for 15c.

One lot of Ladies' hemstitched and embroidered Handkerchiefs that we bought to sell at 20c; nearly as good as 25c ones. Conditions say, 2 for 25c.

Another bargain in a gent's all pure Linen Initial Handkerchief. These are 20c values and you cannot match them for any less. We are to do a little advertising with them at 2 for 25c. The best yet!

Several Specials

We are selling our Cut Glass at one-third off from marked prices. This is done to close the whole lot at once, as we cannot carry Cut Glass and Dress Goods in the same department.

Here is a chance for societies to get a bargain. We have three Punch Bowls, with glasses to match, that were $3.98, and as they have stands extra will give these in and sell the set to you for $2.45.

We are cleaning house on Waists and have put onto our table on first floor a lot of new Waists in assorted sizes, that were $1.25 and $1.50. Now, at 70c each. The most of these are bordered Waists in the linen effects. Nothing better or better; the prices should appeal to you.

You will find lots of unusually good things in our Ladies' Neckwear at better prices than usually named.
